How General Grant First Entered the Service of the Present War.

Service of the Fresent War.

Never was the quotation "Man proposes, but God disposes," more strikingly exemplified than in the following anecdote of General Grant:

"At the commencement of the rebellion an Illimois Representative called upon Governor Yates to recommend to him Mr. Grant as a fit person for some military position. The Governor had received applications from some men over six feet in hight and of muscular frames, and, therefore, curiously eyed the small man, attired in homespun, that stood before him as an applicant. He then asked his grounds for making the application. "I was educated at West Paint" said Grant for making the application. "I was educated at West Point," said Grant, "at the country's expense; I served in Mexico, and when I went out to Oregon, I thought I had returned to the country an equivalent for my edu-cation, so I resigned. The country is now in trouble, and I wish to serve her in her need." Governor Yates had no appointment for him, and he therefore left. Some short time after this occurrence, the Governor was very much distressed in regard to the raising of the quota of the State. He had plenty of offers for officers' positions, but he personally did not know the minutiæ of regimental organizations how many privates composed a com-pany or how many subordinate officers: there should be in a regiment. In his distress he asked the Representative of that plain little man, to whom she had been introduced, if he knew anything of these matters. The Representative replied by bringing Grant into the Governor's presence. "Do you understand the organization of troops?" inquired the Governor. The reply was in the affirmative. "Willayou occupy a desk in my office for that purpose?" "Anything to serve my country," was Grant's reply. And to work at once he went. And but for this Grant might still be unknown to the world. By his energy Illinois became noted for the speed with which she filled her quota.

HOW GRANT BECAME COLONEL, AND FOUND

HIS OWN TRANFORTATION. When the 21st Illinois volunteers was organized, a fine looking man was chosen by the company officers as the colonel, but having no military capa-city, the regiment fell into disorder, and became the terror of the neighborhood where it was encamped. The Governor refused to commission the nominee of the regiment, and asked Grant if he thought he could bring the turbulent mass to order if he were appointed the colonel. Grant thought he could. Half an hour afterwards an application was made to Governor Yates to send a regiment to Quincyone hundred and twenty miles distant; but the trouble with the Governor was not the want of men, but the lack of transportation. "Send my rigiment," said Grant, "and I will find the transportation." The command was given and before night the regiment was un-der orders to march. On foot the regiment was transported to Quincy, and when the men were encamped they were reported as belonging to one of the best disciplined regiments of Illinois volunteers."

U. S. Money is Worth.

While in the neighboring States and Territories, the evils inflicted by the persistent attempt to confine business transactions to a specie basis in the present condition of our country, have been such as to compel the people to have recourse to some way of obviating the difficulties thus brought upon themselves and while, on all sides we read of meetings held and resolutions adopted in favor of the Government currency-here in Utah. strange to say! a movement is being inaugurated for the purpose of depreciating the Government issue by reducing all monetary transactions to a gold basis. We have said it was strange! but we withdraw the expression; it being just what might be expected from the covertly disloval leaders and from the alien indifference and blank stupidity of those who in this community follow "counsel," as it is the canting hypocritical phrase here to term the "one man power." The present effect of this thing has been to increase the price of provisions and all necessary articles about 30 per cent, and its final effect (if it were found possible to carry the measure) would be to drive paying purchasers from this market, and to bring back those haleyon days which preceded the coming of the U.S. soldiers among these valleys, when money did not exist so far as any but the privileged few were concerned, and grown men and women stated they had not seen a piece of money for three, four or five years. Can it be carried or not ?-who will gain and who lose by it? and what will be its effect spon the people of this Territory? are questions highly pertinent, and which we will briefly touch upon. It has already been stated in this paper that the gold and silver requisite for the business of a single day. does not exist in the territory bence it follows that it will be necessary to use greenbacks at an actual value of one-balf or less upon their face. For all practical purposes then it is a mere attempt to depreciate greenbacks, and thereby the Government credit-a contemptible method of showing disloyalty, which nevertheless obtains here to so great an extent as to be quite the mode among a certain class—an influential class on other grounds among the people-but a class which we do not believe the people will follow, as a body, to any such extent as would be involved in this wholesale and open attempt to nullify their obligations as good citizens and as loyal, patriotic. and Union loving men, Furthermore, the day has finally gone by when the people of Utah Territory were moved as puppets, by springs set in motion from the Tabernacle, and every day not only causes still further to recede, but renders more and more impossible the recurrence of any such period. The prime enterprise, the energy, the foresight, and to a great extent the current means of the Territory are in the hands of those who esteem, like ourselves. "counsel" at its proper zero value, and who are exceedingly unlikely to pay much attention to any suggestion in regard to the employ of their means which eminates from those whom they cannot but regard as swindlers and chevaliers d' industrie, who have preyed from the beginning upon the religious belief, the fears and the absurd credulity of a too easy people, or a people so situated as to be unable to help themselves. Even among those people, time has wrought and is daily working great changes - so great that they are at least no longer to be fooled and bumbugged with impunity. They are tired of spending their lives in hard labor and unwearied toil for the support and aggrandizement of the few; and, thank God! they are besides in a position to defy the trashy anathemas and despise the vain threats that once had the power to terrify them into submission to any behests, however absurd. and any requirements, however onerous. For those reasons, and a still stronger one, which will manifest itself in due time, we think the movement cannot succeed, as indeed it neither could nor should among toyal men, for it is and will prove to be one of the addled eggs of secession pression and abasement which have always

are the gainers? The self same men who have managed all along to live and fatten like crows upon carrion from the labor of an entraged and swindled people, and no others will be benefited in the remotest degree thereby. Who else could be the gainers! The farmers of the Territory bave sold off nearly all their grain during the past autumn and winter; and let it be berne in mind that before doing so, they have rendered plethoric the stacks and bins of the Tithing office, which is to be the prominent if not the only gainer by the transaction, and when we say that it (the office) is the only gainer, everybody with yes open knows who is indicated as the swollen recipient. In point of actual fact. there are now in the Territory, more farmers who have to purchase breadstuffs than there are who have anything to sell. It is, there fore, a faron to say the movement in for their benefit The miners of the north and of Utah -the gentile population. resident and trans ient, are not so situated as to means as to come at all within the sphere of the operations of such a measure-indeed, the latter class are of those who have for the most part, some thing for sale, and who would be, did the measure succeed among the few beneficiaries by the carrying out of the programme. The Government would simply either not buy in this market or eise, if requisite,-and reasonable prices in Government money were refused, and circumstances rendered it necessary, would take what it needed and pay in Government funds a reasonable value therefor. The only beneficiaries then by the move ment, are the ecclesiastic vampires, who have sucked the hearts blood of this people and who would fain take a parting drain at an artery which has burst in a fresh spot. Poor laboring people of Utah! how will this movement suit you? As things now stand. you can hardly in the present plethora of money and at the present rates of the necessaries of life, manage with all your hard toil to live from hand to mouth and from day to day. How will you solve the problem of eking out existence with flour at $25 per ewt., and potatoes at $10 per bushel. Surely a blind man may see that the entire scheme is but part and parcel of the same plan, and concocted by the sime beads as the constant course in this Territory—the motto of which, by its part career, ought to be "pauperes pauperiorers. divites ditiores" - make the poor still more poor, and let the rich thrive into wealth. No country that we know of, has in proportion such a number of the abject poor as has Utah, and these are to be the sufferers thereby. It is idle canting folly and arrant hypocrisy then to put any such movement as the one indicated. on the grounds of religion, philanthrophy or good feeling to Government, since it originated in and is backed by no other feelings than self interest-utter heartlessness and cowardly disloyalty. Surely, the peor people (the mass in Utah) must see this, unless they are so entirely blinded as to be utterly given o'er and "joined to their idols."

Finally, the effect upon the people of the Territory-if the move were unexpectedly to us, and through black stupidity on their part. to carry, would be simply to cause not only the miners (so many of whom now sojourn so benefit the people) to leave us, but also speedily and effectually to close the City and Territory as a mart for the entire upper country. It would be to drive out capital already here for investment-to prevent men of means coming here or sending their money for investment either from east or west, to render every branch of business stagnant-to centuple the beggars of the community already sufficiently numerous-while perhaps forty individuals in this City, and as many as three or four in each of the onter settlements would be the sole recipients of any advantage therefrom, as indeed they have all along been the gainers in every movement inaugurated from the same source. Surely the peoplethe bone and sinew of Utah, must see through it, and we can only say that, if they do not. they deserve the misery and poverty—the op-been beir portion under the waning regime, which how in its last throes makes such a desperate effort still to catch the pelf which it gloats upon with dying eyes and eager brain-As to Government, let it be distinctly under stood that here or elsewhere, Uncle Sam will have what he wants-when he wants it-under all circumstances-from all people under the Flag, and that too, at his own estimate of what is a fair price ! !-

ARIZONA MINER-We bave received four numbers of a neat and interesting paper of the above name, published at Fort Whipple, Arizona, and devoted to the mining interests generally and the development of the mineral wealth of that region. We are pleased to see by its columns that extensive mining districts are being established, roads built, civil government established -as well as that the Navsjoes have been subdued and the Apaches soon will be compelled by force of arms to submit to the dominion of law and order. The Miner is published by Tisdale A. Hand, and we bid it welcome as a fellow pioneer in the cause of civilization and enlightenment, as opposed to semi-paganism, and that dead apathy of mind so much desired by those who are fond of making tools of the people.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.

Halifax. July 6th.

A committee headed by Admiral Anson has been formed in London, to raise by guinea subscriptions, a fund for the purchase of a handsome sword. to replace that which Semmes eank with his ship. It is reported that a considerable sum has been raised in Liverpool for the same object. The London Daily News has published an account of the Kearsage and Alabama affair, in regard to the course pursued by the former. It is therein charged that the Deerhound acted as a sort of tender to the Alahama-that Capt. Winslow would have secured all of the officers and crew of the Alabama, had he not placed too much confidence in the bonor of the owner of the yacht-that he considered Capt. Semmes and others who escaped, as bound in honor to give themselves up, and that he did not pursue and fire upon the Deerhound, because he did not believe any vessel carrying the flag of the Royal Yacht Squadron would act so dishonorably.

The Daily News also published a letter from Mr. Stoddard. Sailing Master of the Kearsage, complaining that the Deerhound was a consort of the Alabama.

Chicago, July 7th.

A Baltimore telegram to-day says the city is full of rumors, but the following is believed to be the correct intelligence from Maryland Heights and the region beyond, and it warrants the belief that the rebel force now on this side of the Potomac and on the line of the Virginia side is not less than 30.000. Another special says that Governor Curtin has telegraphed from Washington that 20,000 rebels had crossed at Point of Rocks In the absence of accurate knowledge of the state of affairs in the vicinity of Harper's Ferry, these reports may be received for what they are worth. New York. July 7th.

The Tribune's Harrisburg special of the 6th. says: Official information received here shows that Grant has notified the War Department that a large portion of the rebel army had left his immediate front and that a large portion of Hunter's force had reached Parkers' burg on their way east, and his advance will reach Cumberland to-morrow morning.

The World's special says: Notwithstanding the wild reports, it is learned that the rebels have burned only one important bridge west of Harper's Ferry. viz: that over Patterson's creek. It is well understood that nothing the rebels can do by way of the Shenandosh valley, will induce Grant to send any portion of his army to the defence of Wash-

Movements are now under way for largely reinforcing Grant's army by veteran troops from points of less vital importance than Richmond.

Harrisburg, Pa. July 6th. Dispatches from Chambersburg state that the rebels supposed to be Bradley Johnson's brigade, entered Hagerstown this afternoon, The Federal force after a spirited resistance were compelled to fall back on Greencastle, Pa., with which place we still had telegraphie communication up to 9 o'cleck to-night. A Proclamation has been issued by the Governor calling for 12,000 troops, in addit tion to the 17,000 ordered out on the 5th.

New York, July 7th.

Herald's 18th corps correspondent July 24. says: To-day witnessed one of the most exeiting artillery hattles of the war. After two hours cannonading the rebel batteries were completely silenced, and the rabels driven from their place. At 8 in the afternoon the enemy opened again, and soon the enemy's works were enveloped in one continuous cloud of dust by our shells. The rebel gunners were seen running to the rear for safety. After two hours every rebel battery was silenced. Our batteries had been placed with great skill and care so that at any moment they can be concentrated on any given point. Our bombardment of the city is steadily doing its work. A large number of buildings are already destroyed.

Tribune's special says: Petersburg is now covered by 100 of our guns, and were Grant to give orders for its destruction, it would be but the work of a few hours.

Fortress Monroe, July 6th. A steamer arrived this morning from Bermuda Hundred. Nothing new from the front-No battle yet.

New York, July 7th. Tribine's Washington dispatch says: The occasion for the suspension of the habeas carpas and proclaiming of martial law in Kentucky s anticipated trouble in enforcing the draft, and particularly the enlistment of slaves. Baltimore, July 7th.

The rebels in Harper's Ferry destroyed all the railroad property there. The telegraph and ticket offices are also burned, together with a large quantity of forage.

Washington, July 7th The naval steamer Keyport, reports that esterday morning, when she left City Point, beavy firing was heard there from the direction of Petersburg, but it was not knows whether it was any more than an artiller duel. The hospital at City Point has been cleared of sick and wounded. Philadelphia. July 7th.

The Bulletin's special from Chambersburg the 7th, says a man just arrived from Greescastle, says McCausland's command (formerly Jenkins') fifteen hundred strong, consisting of cavalry and mounted infantry, with one battery, entered Hagerstown, and left at eleven o'clock, by the Frederick Pike, where the main body of rebels have gone. Small parties returned this morning, and made a requisition on the people for fifteen hundred atfits and $20,000. which was paid under threes of burning the town.

Baltimore, July 7th. There can be no longer any doubt that Landau has sent a considerable portion of his army is this direction.

The American has the following:

Frederick, Md., July 7th. At 10 o'clock this morning the 8th Illino five miles from Frederick, where they met the enemy in strong force of i fantry, cavalry and artillery. After a short fight our force were repulsed, and fell back on Frederick the enemy slowly pursuing.

Gen. Washington, July 7th.

The House in accordance with a Joint Resolution of Congress, has issued a Proclamation appointing the first Thursday in August, as a day of humiliation and prayer for the people of the United States, and commending them to implore the compassion and forgiveness of the Almighty, and to pray that. if consistent with his will, this rebellion may be speedily suppressed, and the supremacy of the Constitution and Laws of the United States, be established throughout the States; that the rebels may lay down their arms and speedily return to their allegiance; that the effusion of blood may be stayed, and that amity and fraternity may be festored, and peace established throughout our borders.

Baltimore, July 7th. The following particulars were gathered at head-quarters from information received there to-night: This p. m. the rebel advance made an effort to gain the bridge over the Monocacy. General Wallace with only a small portion of his force moved out to check them. Wallace formed his line about a mile eastward of the town, and shortly after 4 o'clock fighting com menced, and lasted more or less severely till 8 o'clock, when the rebels after being three times repulsed, retired, leaving us in possession of the ground. During the action several shells fell into the city, but did no damage of moment. Citizens viewed the fight from the housetops and from the outskirts. General Wallace is confident of holding Frederick; he gives no estimate of his killed and wounded; reinforcements are rapidly pushing forward. There is every reason to believe that this movement of the enemy will result only in disappointment and disaster to the rebel

New York, July 8th.

Special from Harrisburg 7th: The following is the substance of a dispatch just received, signed by Gen Couch and officers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad: The invading force either in Maryland or on the march for that State amounts to no less than 80.000. They say they have ascertained this fact from their own party and agents. The enemy's force consists of 15.000 infantry, artillery and cavalry, chiefly the latter. They left Hagerstown this morning on the old National road in the direction of Boonsboro, ca route for Frederick Citizense. rick City, and they declared they marched just at daylight. A rumor prevails that a force of several thousand had encamped just south of Middleburg, between Greencastle and Hagerstown. We do not believe in the fact of any force levying contributions at Hagerstown. The rebels are believed to be partly Imboden's and partly the old force of Jenkins' which led Lee's advance into Pennsylvania last year before the battle of Gettysburg. We have trustworthy information that there are no rebcls this side of Hagerstown.

A special to the Tribune. Monocacy. Md.. 7th. says: Harper's Ferry is still held by the rebels. who have sharpshooters in the houses and held for the same that the same and behind fences, to prevent our men from coming down from the beights. The rebels last night set fire to the bridge again at Harper's Ferry, destroying fifty feet of the trestle work and wood work under the span, on the Virginia side. Gen. Wallace who has established his head-quarters for the present here, sent Col. Clendenin with a force of cavalry and two guns to feel the enemy, with orders to proceed as far as Boonsboro. Clendenin met the enemy about a mile east of Middletown, and had a brisk skirmish. He found the enemy superior in numbers, but drew him toward Frederick, and there showed him battle. Meantime Wallace's reinforcements, under Col. Gilpin and Major Tellott, took a position three-fourths of a mile east of Frederick City, and were there attacked by the rebels. The and were there attacked by the rebels. The battle opened about five in the afternoon, and continued with more or less severity 3 hours. Col. Gilpin's command dialodged and drove the country of the coun back the enemy three times. The artillery firing was continuous and the musketry brisk. The object of the fight was to hold the bridge across the Monocacy at Frederick Junction. This was very important, as reinforcement are en route and will arrive to night for Harper's Ferry. Gen. Wallace informs me he will hold Frederick.

New York July 84.

Capt. Custy, U. S. Navy. in a cutter with only sixteen men, ran ashore near Wilmington, on the 24th ult. and captured a carrier with a valuable mail. He took several prisoners and ran the gauntlet of the rebel gunboata on his return. He was gone three days. The Times' special says a number of Wilson's men come into our lines daily. Our loss will be cut down to one thousand.

It is understood that Fessenden will not

It is understood that Fessenden will not contract the currency.

Baltimore. July 7th. We are assured at Head quarters that every-thing is progressing well, and with the rein-forcements now reaching the front, the rebels will soon find their expectations sadly disap-pointed. Wallace says the detachment of one hundred day men in the fight, behaved well.

The World's Frederick special, says: The commissary stores of Hunter and Sigel were not burned as reported, but abandoned. The rebels learning this, sent a part of their force into Maryland as a blind, scattering them about so as to distract our attention, while they hurried those stores, which were large and valuable, off by Staunton and Winchester. Finishing this job they will concentrate in Maryland and do all the damage they can.

This officer, one of the very bravest and most skillful and thoroughly schooled and experienced in the rebel army, has been the most unfortunate of any general on either side participating in to the right about by General McDowcll at the first battle of Bull Run, and but the Brown all Dackson and Joe Johnston his rollitary career would then have ended. He figured as a secondary character in the bloody Pe ninsula campaign of 1863, and signally failed in his notable North Carolina expedition of the same year. He fought terribly but disastronely to his own troops at Antietam and Gettysburg; he did nothing very remarkable at Fredericksburg his corps was cut to pieces by General Thomas at Chickamange, and he was baffled and thor-oughly beaten at all points by General Burnside at Knoxville From his last repulse near the old battle ground of Chancellorsville, he is reported to have been borne off mortally wounded. At all events, be is a very remarkable ex-ample of a great soldier of many battles and many defeats, and without a single victory that can be called his PORTINGO OGECON. . dwo

Some young men traveling among the White Mountains, recently, stopped at a farm house and called for milk. After drinking several basins full, the woman of the house brought them an enormous bowl full, remarking "One would think, gentlemen, you had never been weaned !"

Punch says it has been proposed to tax stays, but it was objected to on the ground that it would diminish consumption.
